STUDENTS WELL ACQUIT THEMSELVES

Enthusiastic Audience Witnesses "The Kentucky Minstrels" And the Farce, "Our Awful Aunt" — Orchestra Adds to Pleasure

STAGE SETTING UNIQUE

John Anthony, Interlocutor, Stars, As Does the Entire Galaxy of Minstrel Artists—Farce Is Creditably Presented, And Credit Due to All

An enthusiastic audience filled the High School auditorium last night at the first performance given this year by the Music Department of the High School. They are telling all their friends not to miss the performance tonight, and the management assures the Mail that several good seats are still available. The patrons got double value for their money an amusing playlet preceding the show proper, "The Kentucky Minstrels."

The High School orchestra gave an unusually finished performance of a selection from "Tannhauser." The orchestra is much improved this season by a strengthening of the wind section. The first cornetist, Reno Chitti, gave a difficult solo number. "L'Elegante" later in the evening, which was well received. Another musical number which received hearty applause was a banjo and guitar duet by Frank Arrigo and Philip Meli. The former deserves special mention for his performance as end man, having taken John White's place at twelve hours' notice.

The performance began with a farce, "Our Awful Aunt," on the extended platform before the curtain. All filled their parts capably, but Alice Feeney in the name part and Bennie Trnavsky as the colored servant boy were screamingly funny and kept the audience laughing every moment.

When the curtain rose it disclosed a stage setting beautiful and unique. Orchid-colored hangings alternating with striking and artistic panels, designed and painted by Miss Irene Chester, Art Supervisor in the Junior High School, formed the background. A pleasant contrast was provided by the palms and ferns, kindly loaned by the Kinder Flower Shop.

Enthroned on black and gold draped chairs, sat a chorus of forty handsome youths in splendid purple and gold satin tuxedos. To see John Anthony, the cool and capable interlocutor, in his ivory-colored satin dress-suit, was alone worth the price of admission.

The opening number revealed what the rest of the evening confirmed, a chorus unusually well-trained and rendering each number with unanimity and precision. The solo dance by August Walenta was especially good.

The duet, "How Do You Do?" furnished an effective entrance for the premier ends, James Russell and Edward Sheppard, fantastically and indescribably attired.

Their dancing and singing, jokes and songs were all heartily applauded. These boys are natural humorists and no mistake was made in their selection for these important parts.

"Mindin' My Business" by Russell and Sheppard's "Fairy Tales," were two of the hits of the evening. The latter was applauded till the supply of stanzas was exhausted—we understand that additional verses will be available tonight.

Elmer Swenson's inimitable swagger and acting in "That's a Plenty," Charles Polacci's graceful humor in "Hard Hearted Hannah," Eugene Watterson's really good singing in "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," Arrigo's "I Don't Know" were all received with laughter and applause. Mention should be made of the hilarious fun of "You Can't Fool An Old Hoss-Fly," and the tenderly beautiful duet "Dreaming of Home Sweet Home" by Norman Turnbull and Bennie Trnavsky, assisted by a male quartet and the clever cane dance and song, "We Just Came In to Say Hello," given by a double quartet, trained by Miss Grace Piersol, Physical-Training Director of the Junior High School. Other dances that gave pleasure were the Rube Dance and the Athletic Dance, also under Miss Piersol's direction.

The diminutive leader of the noontime parade appeared in the evening as a soloist in Putting's "Sing Sing Birds On the Wing," and received several encores.

"A Colored Wedding" served as entr'acte to the performance of the minstrels, while Sunshine Franklin, played by Emil Simonin, was united in marriage to Kizzy Strait, played by Wayne Carnahan. George Kefover was the officiating clergyman.

Eldred Orndorff's management of the spotlight enhanced the beauty and effectiveness of the entire performance.

Prof. Earl Braman, the very efficient Music director of the Charleroi High School, added again to the considerable number of triumphs he has won in our town by this musical medley of song, dance, fun, and nonsense, given last evening.

GETTING READY FOR THE BIG FOOTBALL GAME

It will only be a short time until the "Old Men" and "Young Men" of the H. T. A. C. engage in their fifth annual footbal game. Already arguments are carried on at the club that will end only when the two teams have battled it out on the field. To-date the teams have played four games and a total of twelve points have been registered. The "Young Gents" with two victories but the "Old Men" claim they will score more points this year than the "Colts" scored in four years.

RED CROSS WORKERS IN MEETING TONIGHT

Doctor May Lose The Sight Of An Eye

Dr. E. F. McElvany a Monongahela chiropractor is threatened with the loss of his left eye as the result of a tiny particle of glass lodging in the eyeball last Friday, while he was enroute to the home of his sister on the Northside Pittsburgh.

The physician was riding in a seat next to an open window and as the car approached Pittsburgh a gust of [illegible] through the window. The doctor felt some irritation of the eyeball but though it merely a particle of dust. Several hours elapsed and the irritation increased. A specialist was called and removed the piece of glass, but not before it had seriously cut the eyeball and the lid. The [illegible] will be confined, it is said, in a darkened room for some time as a result of the unique accident.

BIG MEN AT THE INSTITUTE

Preparations are being made by Superintendent C. R. McClelland and his corps of teachers for the annual teachers' institute of the Monessen Public schools and the Rostraver Township public schools to be held in the Monessen High School building from Monday December 1, to Friday, December 5. Approximately 235 teachers will be in attendance. Of this number 165 will be instructors of the Monessen Public schools and about 70 teachers in Rostraver township.

The list of instructors and entertainers that have been secured for [illegible] will surpass any former institute, and it is opined that this will be the largest attended institute of any previous session. This will be the thirteenth annual institute for the teachers of Monessen and it will be the ninth year that Rostraver township has joined with Monessen. A portion of the talent secured is famed in institute and educational work and teachers students, parents and citizens in general will have entertainment features unsurpassed. In the category may be mentioned the names of Chester M. Sanford superintendent of the Illinois State University; Robert E. Shaw of the State Department of Education; Miss Anna Grassmuck also of the State Department of Education. Dr. Freeman Guy of the University of Pittsburgh, and others.

Coal Company Brings Suit For Damages

A suit in trespass involving a claim aggregating $45,000, was filed in the prothonotary's office, Greensburg, Wednesday, by the Pittsburgh Coal Company against D. A. Rupert, B. M. Hunter, and William McNeil, individually and as partners, trading and doing business as the Webster Coal Company, and against Joseph Z. Finley. The defendants are from Rostraver Township, Westmoreland.

The statement of claim alleges that the plaintiffs are the owners of a large tract of coal land in Rostraver township from which they have mined coal for a number of years.

It is stated that about six years ago, Joseph Z. Finley [illegible] that the coal as described in the bill of complaint belong[illegible] plaintiffs, leased it to Rupert, Hunter, and McNeil. The coal, which the plaintiffs contend belonged to them, was mined by the defendants.

It is further alleged that the mining of the plaintiff's coal has continued for the past six years. It is said that some 15,000 tons of coal have been taken out, which is valued at $15,000.

The plaintiffs base their claim on the Act of Assembly of 1878 which they say makes the defendants liable to pay treble the value of the coal, or $45,000.

A COLORED MAN FACES THE JURY

Herman Johnson, Who Is Accused of Slaying Sweetheart at Baseball Game Near Americo Park, On June 11, Last

LIST OF THE JURORS

Commonwealth Avers There Is Sufficient Evidence to Warrant the Claim That the Shooting Was Premeditated — Defense Pleads "Not Guilty"

Herman Johnson, colored, a young man of Donora, was arraigned before Judge Erwin Cummins yesterday on the charge of murder in the first degree. The defendant was indicted for fatally wounding Lela Warfield, colored, at the Americo ball park, in Carroll township, near Donora, at a baseball game on June 11 of this year. Miss Warfield was taken to the Charleroi-Monessen hospital after she was shot, and died there on July 4. Her death was due to pneumonia brought on by the bullet wound.

On the date of the shooting Miss Warfield accompanied George Densley to the baseball game. It is said that Johnson and Densley were rival suitors. Johnson, seeing the Warfield girl with Densley, became angered and after a few words had passed, during which it is alleged Johnson said to the girl, "I am going to send you to h— for this," he pulled a gun and shot her.

The commonwealth avers there is sufficient evidence to warrant the claim that the shooting was premeditated and that Johnson went to the park for the purpose of finding the girl and, if with the rival, to shoot and kill her.

The defendant was put through the usual form of arraignment, and when asked if guilty or not guilty, replied "not guilty." The afternoon was taken up with the selection of a jury and the opening of the case. The following jurors were chosen:

George Danley, West Finley; D. C. James, Washington; Jacob Wilner, Washington; Harold Miller, Claysville; Lucile Gates, Washington R. D. 8; Alden Miller, Avella; Mrs. Anna M. Dorr, Washington, R. D. Hamilton, Claysville; Mrs. Pearl Winnett, Washington; Mrs. Cora M. Hughes, Canonsburg; E. A. Burson, Washington; Ira Lacock, Washington.

The four women selected have the distinction of being the first women ever selected in Washington county to serve on a murder jury. The members of the jury are being kept in the court house, the women being in charge of Mrs. Kate B. Hallam, and Tiostaves McKennan and McDougall having charge of the men.

Fredericktown Woman Is Held At Detroit, Mich., For Automobile Theft

Philip Smith, 23, and William Gilman, 22, both of Pittsburgh, and Jennie McDermott, 22, of Fredericktown, are being held at Detroit at the request of the police of Cleveland, where they are wanted in connection with the theft of an automobile a week ago.

According to the report given the Detroit police, the three and another man stole an automobile in Cleveland and drove to Detroit. The third man, whose name is not known in Detroit, returned to Cleveland and was arrested Wednesday noon. While he was being questioned, he told of the whereabouts of the three in Detroit, which resulted in their arrest.

MUSICAL PROGRAM PLEASED AT THE BAZAAR

The huge bazaar that is being held this week in the Dugout by the American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 22 was very largely attended last night and the musical program presented pleased everyone present.

Ornan Morgan was present and entertained his listeners with three vocal numbers. He was accompanied on the piano by Miss Irene Pardiny. Miss Ethel Barth, in her usual capable manner, sang several solos as did Mrs. Edgar Wilson, whose soprano voice is always well received. Their accompaniment was played by Mrs. C. Warren Kinder.

There will be a special musical program this evening as well as a card party. Madame Ireno, the palmist, will also be on the program and the Dugout is expected to be filled to its capacity.

MAY FINISH COUNT TODAY

The official count of the votes cast at the election on Tuesday of last week has progressed to the point where the return board is ready to begin the totaling of the many figures that have been tabulated within the past few days. The work is very tedious because of the vote cast for each elector on each party ticket has to be noted and where there were no votes ciphers put in.

There are eight party tickets, under each of which the names of 38 electors that a voter might wish to put in. Many voters wrote in names and all these have been accounted for. There are 171 precincts in the county and the vote for electors was not uniform in many instances one elector receiving a certain vote and another a different vote. The board may complete its work today or Saturday morning.

Time was taken out Wednesday for the recount of the vote in the second precinct of the Third ward Washington, where an apparent error existed in the vote of all candidates other than the presidential electors. Upon order of court this ballot box was brought in and a recount made. It was ascertained that the board had failed to count any other than the split tickets for several candidates. The Coolidge electors received 180 votes while Dr. Temple was credited with but 12. He was entitled to 180 more votes. This error persisted all the way though the official return due to the failure to add the straight party vote to the split vote.

Amity Road Section Soon To Be Completed According To Report

Construction work on that portion of the Washington-Waynesburg highway Route No. 325, extending from Hurts Mill to the Ten Mile creek crossing one mile south of Amity, a distance of six and one-half miles is nearly completed, only about 2,500 feet of concrete remaining to be laid.

The Donora Construction company, which has the contract for the construction of this section has been rushing the work and with favorable working weather expects to complete the concrete work within seven or eight days.

During the last four weeks the contractor has been able to finish about two and one-half miles of the road.

Upon the completion of this northern section and also the section extending from Waynesburg to Ruff Creek, a distance of four and one-half miles, there will be finished on Route No. 325 a total of 11 miles built this season between Washington and Waynesburg leaving about six miles between Ten Mile creek in Washington county, Ruff Creek in Greene county, for future building.

At the present time a corps of state engineers is surveying the remaining portion, or middle section, and it is expected that the remaining four miles will be built early next season.

The work on this road is being done with completeness and durability as objects both in the road bed and surface, with complete drainage. The concrete road is 18 feet wide steel reinforced and 20 to 24 feet wide on curves with super-elevation on curves. Natural grades have been greatly reduced and all possible curves have been greatly reduced and all possible curves have been eliminated. When completed the indications are that it will be one of the finest roads in Western Pennsylvania.

The completion of this primary system to the West Virginia line near Mt. Morris will be of great value to southwestern Pensylvania and to the Morgantown Blacksville and Fairmont regions of West Virginia as it will give a direct traffic communication to the trade centers of Waynesburg Washington, Pittsburgh and and Wheeling.

DWELLERS DRIVEN FROM THEIR HOMES

Jersey City, N. J., Nov. 14—2,000 tenement dwellers were driven from their homes, 12 firemen were overcome, ferry boats plying to the Jersey Central and Pennsylvania piers were held up and damages that may run into millions was caused by fire which destroyed the Battelle and Renwick plant and spread to the warehouse of the American Sugar Refining company and adjoining buildings.

Dense clouds of smoke rolled over the river front. A series of explosions in the Battelle and Renwick saltpetre plant hampered the firemen and furthered the spread of the flames.

Crowded ferry boats leaned to one side as their passengers watched the fire, were unable to enter their piers because of the dense smoke. Fog horns kept up a mournful hooting.

The burning plant occupied a full block. Refugees from contiguous blocks were taken into the police stations and other public buildings.

The twelve firemen were treated by ambulance surgeons and some of them were able to return to duty.

Starting at 9 a. m. the flames gained [illegible] every available piece of fire apparatus in Jersey City was at work, while help came from surrounding towns without appreciable check being given to the fire.

The streams resembled a town in the war zone of France with the constant explosions punctuated now and then by dynamite blasts as buildings were razed in the path of the flames. A score of firemen were overcome and dozens injured and rushed to the hospital.

STOCKS SOAR IN NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 4—The New York stock exchange entered the ninth day of the great post-election stock trading boom today with another 2,000,000-share day in prospect.

Yesterday's turnover was 2,135,413 shares. It was the fifth day of the bull movement to pass 2,000,000 shares and the eighth to pass 1,000,000.

Stocks soared over all previous records since November 21, 1916, fifty-nine issues establishing new highs with a total of 555 stocks dealt in, a new record for all time.

Total shares dealt in passed 15,000,000 and it was estimated the paper appreciated in value at least $3,000,000,000. This is purely a paper increase, of course, but to Wall street it represents the foundation of great period of post-election prosperity.

The appreciation in [illegible] stocks listed on the exchange was estimated at $2,500,000,000. When the increase in values of curb stocks and deals "across the counter" was added a total of more than $3,000,000,000 was certain.

Despite heavy profit-taking the market continued bullish, with industrial [illegible] ding to the enthusiasm of trading.

Bankers who interested themselves in stocks during the dull summer season, were listed as among the big winners. Professional traders, as a whole, were not active in the market which was described as "too wide and frolicksome" for them.

The professionals, anticipating "top of the market, were said to have lost heavily by selling short issues. The analysts that [illegible]

W. B. Pfleghardt of Fallowfield avenue is a business caller in Pittsburgh today.

Jos. Walters of Pittsburgh returned to his home today after a few days' business trip in Charleroi.

Miss Elida Lupori and Inex Grndy, both of Dunlevy, spent yesterday visiting friends in Belle Vernon.

Mrs. Pete Rutili of Donora was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lupori of Dunlevy yesterday.

Donald Corkle of Washington avenue, who is employed in Pittsburgh, was a caller in Charleroi last evening.

Miss Mary Grable of Fallowfield avenue spent last evening visiting with Miss Veronica Krider of East End Pittsburgh.

James O'Brien, son Leo, and Albert Bertoulle of North Charleroi and William Guiler of this borough left Wednesday for a week's hunting trip in Butler county. They made the trip by motor.

The Rev. Sidney H. Dixon, rector of St. Mary's Episcopal church last evening attended a supper and joint meeting of the vestries of Pittsburgh at St. Peter's Episcopal church, at which time Lewis E. Franklin of the National Council, spoke on the work of the church.

Captain Thomas Brown, Frank N. Wagner, Carl Aschman of Charleroi and Skikes Bruce and David Weaver of North Charleroi, left today at noon to accompany the California Normal football team to State College where tomorrow afternoon they will meet thes trong State College freshmen. Coach Allison took but sixteen men of the team.

Miss Dolores Boni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Boni of Meadow avenue, who is employed in the Charleroi Fruit store in McKean avenue, underwent an operation for the removal of the appendix in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital Monday. Miss Boni is getting along very nicely and will be able to return to her home some time next week.

Home of Half-Million Gulls

Ravenglass, on the coast of Cumberland, England, is one of the greatest haunts of seagulls (commonly called gulleries) on the British coast. Their breeding season ended with the last days of June. These beautiful birds are of the black headed variety, and the chief game warden estimates that there are over 500,000 birds, which is regarded as a most conservative estimate. The gallery is situated on the Muncaster Castle estate.

Uncomplimentary Wit

Like the Scotch, the English can relish a joke on their native peculiarities. A recent book of British reminiscences includes this little known story of the old duchesse de Duras and Montrond the French wit. The duchesse asked the famous wit, "In your opinion, what animal the most closely resembles man?" Montrond reflected for a minute and then replied, gravely, "L'Anglais, duchess."

Interpreting

A poet, in fact, like any other artist, must not simply transcribe nature. He must interpret her; and as she is too vast to be interpreted under all her aspects, he must select. Whether this selection is conscious or unconscious it must be prompted not merely by his physical environment, but also by his intellectual attitude toward external nature.—E. E. Sikes.

Eagles Have Long Life

The biological survey says that some specimens of eagles have been known to live a hundred years. From records kept by the zoological societies of London it is shown that specimens in captivity lived to be forty-two, forty-six and fifty-five years of age.

Lemon Tree Peculiar

One of the chief peculiarities of the lemon tree is that it carries both flower and fruit in all stages of development most of the year. The lemons are picked green and ripened in the dark. If picked when ripe they will not keep for any length of time.

In Society's Realm

The Philathea Sunday School class of the First Christian church held its regular monthly meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Alfred Brown of Ninth street. The evening was delightfully spent by the eighteen members present in games and social converse, preceded by a short business meeting. Mrs. Brown served a dainty luncheon assisted by Mrs. Charles Clerihue and Miss Stella Elder. The December meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Clerihue of Lincoln avenue.

The members of the Ladies Aid society of the Speers Methodist Episcopal church met at the home of Mrs. Enos Ellis yesterday afternoon in their regular monthly meeting. There was a large attendance. During the business meeting plans were discussed and completed for a bazaar and chicken supper to be held December 4 and 5. This was followed by a social hour during which refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Ellis, and Mrs. William Morgan.

Mrs. Mary Risher was hostess to the regular meeting of the Wednesday Evening 500 club at her home Wednesday evening. There were eleven members and two visitors present and the evening was spent in playing cards. The favors were awarded to Mrs. William Newton, Mrs. Felix Protin and Mrs. Lawrence Stech. Luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Miss Frances Risher. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Newton of Lincoln avenue December 3.

Mrs. Burdell Clutter was hostess to the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Pollyanna class of Christ Lutheran church last evening at her home in Eighth street and Fallowfield avenue. There were 21 members present and three visitors, Mrs. A. C. Huber of Canton, Ohio, Mrs. Frank L. Crow and Dr. C. B. King. During the business session, plans were made for the Christmas bazaar to be held December 11, 12 and 13 in the West Penn building. The time was pleasantly spent in sewing and social converse followed by the serving of a delicious luncheon by the hostess assisted by her sister Mrs. Crow. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eggleton of the Manon apartments next Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ateroi of 1013 Lincoln avenue entertained at their home last evening with a birthday party in honor of their daughter Dolores May, who celebrated her third anniversary yesterday. The interior of the home was prettily decorated with pink and white and the twenty-eight small guests present spent a delightful evening in games, music and dancing. Miss Cecelia Kiffel of Monessen entertained with a number of pretty toe dances. Near the end of the evening Mrs. Alteroi served a dainty luncheon assisted by Mrs. Louis Cotton and Mrs. Jacob Orvetzs. Small pink and white baskets filled with candy of corresponding colors, were given each guest. The honored guest was the recipient of many pretty gifts.

The Isabel Thoburns of the Methodist Episcopal church accorded Mrs. Golden Harrington a miscellaneous shower at the church last night. Mrs. Harrington, who before her marriage a few months ago, was known as Miss Mary Welch was presented with teaspoons and a beautiful gold china mayonaise set in addition to numerous kitchen utensils. The meeting, which was the regular session was opened with a business meeting, during which time plans were formulated for the annual Christmas party which will be held this year at the home of Miss Mattie Kelley. The Christmas donations were also discussed. Fancywork and social converse were the chief diversions followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon by the hostesses, Mrs. Russell Bucy, Mrs. Elizabeth Michener, Misses Frances Dorrycott and Jean Eagye.

A Doll With 3 to 12 Heads

Changes Faces, Changes Clothes, Walks and Talks

Many Dolls In One—Heaps of Fun

A doll with one body—but a dozen heads! And a different costume for each head! Heads and costumes changed in a jiffy—such change making an entirely different character—that's the Famlee Doll.

Heads screw on and off—simply a turn at the neck; a two-year-old can do it.

Every little girl will love this many-sided playmate in every one of its three to twelve characters. Great fun to change from a Girl Doll to a Boy Doll—then to Little-Miss-From-Holland—then to Ching-Ching-Chinaman—and so on through many lovable and life-like characters—the number depending on the number of heads in the set you buy. Stimulates imagination, develops the creative instinct—an educational amusement that is always full of fascination.

A Wonderful Birthday or Christmas Gift

Each character walks and talks. 16 inches high. Non-breakable. Quality in every detail.

No matter how many dolls a little girl has, she has never had one like this—a doll that's always changing. Any little girl who gets one, either on her birthday or for Christmas, will be supremely happy—not merely for a day or two, but day after day and year after year.

Pair Must Fight In Return Battle At Motor Square

It cost Nate Goldman of Philadelphia just $400 for his repeated disregard to the warning of Referee Jack Aspery in his bout with Jack Zivic at Pittsburgh last Monday. This was the penalty the Pennsylvania state boxing commission inflicted on the Philadelphia boxer at a special meeting held yesterday after State Commissioner Harvey Boyle who had witnessed the fight had filed his views of the matter with the board.

In that bout Goldman was disqualified in third round for the several foul punches he used on Zivic and for the utter contempt he showed for the wornings Aspery gave him.

But that the commission also thought that others were at fault in the same bout was shown when Aspery was suspended 30 days for violation of the rules of the commission by not having the club's physician examine Zivic's condition before he left the ring.

The commissioner argued that inasmuch as Goldman vehemently protested before them that he did not foul Zivic and that the blows he delivered were fair enough that Aspery should have insisted upon the club's physician examining Zivic to see if he was actually harmed by the alleged blows.

They claimed that while Aspery may have been right in disqualifying Goldman he was acting thoughtlessly in not having Zivic examined and that he should be punished for neglect of his duties.

Zivic too was somewhat penalized for the affair for the board decided that Jack would not be allowed to box in Pennsylvania again until he agreed to meet Goldman again in a return bout at Motor Square Garden, the contest to be held under the same condition as the bout held last Monday.

SMOKY CITY BOXERS SCORE GOTHAM WINS

Stanley Simmons of Pittsburgh reporting his performance of Wednesday night in the Inter-City amateur boxing at Madison Square Garden New York came through last night with flying colors for in the final 175-pound clash he scored a victory over Joe Monte of Boston. The bout went the limit of three rounds.

Simmons lost no time in whipping in rights and lefts to the Bostonian's head and body. The bout had not started long when Monte began to realize he was on the receiving end of a good deliverer. The Boston boy made several attempts to stage a rally but the alert Pittsburgher was too clever for the New England lad and blocked off every effort he made to come back.

Results of the bouts of three rounds each with an extra round if necessary for decision were as follows

118-Pound Class—Johnny Ryan of Boston defeated Neve of New York, decision; Thomas Lorenzo of New York defeated Frank McDonald of Boston decision; Jack Donohue of New York defeated Howard Copeland of Pittsburgh, decision.

Special Bout—Andy Andrussi of Pittsburgh defeated Santo Carissola of New York decision.

160-Pound Class—Joe Gallagher of Brooklyn defeated Pat McAteer of Boston ,decision; Ray Fay of Pittsburgh defeated Harry Susco of New York decision.

Considering everything, including opportunity, things at Washington are not so bad as might be expected.

TERRIS SCORES A KNOCKOUT OVER MEL COOGAN

Sid Terris, super-speedster of the lightweights knocked out Mel Coogan veteran Brooklyn lightweight, after one minute and 21 seconds of the sixth round of a 12-round contest at the Rink Sporting Club, New York last night.

Terris outboxed the veteran in every one of the rounds and was entirely too fast for Coogan. Terris opened the bout by going along easy for the first two rounds: Terris took the third and Coogan the fourth. In the fifth Terris slammed away to the face and Coogan's mouth and nose were bleeding profusely at the end of the round. In the sixth round Terris banged away with his left and then with a one-two punch directed at the chin sent Coogan down for the count. Mel rolled over on his back and tried to arise but was counted out before he could get on his feet. Terris weighed 133 and Coogan 133 1-2.

MONONGAHELA AND DONORA PLAY TODAY

Attracting nearly as much attention as the clash between Charleroi and California High last Saturday is the game between Monongahela High and Donora High today. Officials of the Donora school have changed the time of the game from 3 to 2:30 o'clock.

In the minds of Monongahela critics there is little doubt as to the outcome of the battle. Monongahela's schedule which has been played , included Bellevue Clairton, McKeesport ,California, Monessen and Bentleyville. Donora and Charleroi remain on the calendar the Donora game today and the Charleroi classic at home, Friday, November 21.

Men often say they seek justice, when all they are after is revenge.

Refusal To Accept Training Methods Fatal To The Wild Bull

The pugilistic star of Luis Angel Firpo appears to be setting with the sort of meteroic rapidity which marked its rise.

On top of his decisive defeat in September at the hands of Harry Wills the decisive setback given Firpo Wednesday night at Newark by Charley Weinert has put the famous Argentinian's fistic stock at the lowest ebb it has been since he made his professional debut in 1922.

Critics gave credit to Weinert for the skill with which he completely outboxed and outguessed his giant opponent but were unanimous in declaring that Firpo was not the same fighter whose terrific right blasted a path through heavyweight ranks in 1923 and who had the title within his grasp when he knocked Jack Dempsey the champion out of the ring at the Polo Grounds.

A variety of factors figure in the downfall of the erstwhile Argentine idol according to observers, but chief among them are his failure to condition himself properly or to put himself in the hands of a competent trainer. Mental worries brought on by harassing legal difficulties were blamed for Firpo's showing against Wills, but he had no excuse of this sort Wednesday night. Firpo's temperament most critics aver, has mitigated against his continued success in the ring. Confident of his own strength and ability and concinced that he was the most competent guide of his ring career., the big South American has steadfastly refused to put himself in other and more experienced hands. For a time he submitted to the training methods of Jimmy De Forest veteran ring mentor who guided Firpo through his first few successes, but De Forest's procedure eventually proved irksome to the "wild bull," and he severed their relations shortly before his battle with Jess Willard in July 1923.

As a result of his aversion to accepting North American ring methods, Firpo is credited with having made little scientific advancement in the two and a half years. Shorn of his powerful right in his fights with both Wills and Weinert his performances have been only slightly less crude than when he waged his first battles in this country.

Firpo's future plans are uncertain He has several more fights in prospect in the metropolitan district and elsewhere during the winter, including offers from Tex Rickard for matches with Quintin Romero and George Godfrew at Madison Square Garden.

50,000 IN LIFE-SAVING SERVICE OF RED CROSS

Additional 50,000 Water Safety Experts Probable Gain of Summer Campaign.

A boy watched an expert give a class a lesson in the way to revive a person unconscious from water immersion. The next day the boy tried it on a bathing companion and saved his life. Such a boy justifies all the effort and the cost of the Life-Saving Service, American Red Cross officials declare. The Red Cross method of restoring partly drowned persons is so simple that the continual large sacrifice of life must decrease as an informed public insists upon general instruction in prone pressure practice to induce respiration.

The Red Cross Life-Saving Service in every part of the country, summer and winter, is engaged in teaching this method as an integral part of swimming and life-saving. This service has grown from a single expert in 1914 to a corps of almost 50,000 active life-savers. In this tenth year of the work it is predicted that fully 50,000 more experts will be eligible for membership in the corps. This large accession in a single year is confidently expected as the result of the campaign among 22,000 troops of Boy Scouts under a plan to qualify at least two life-guards in each troop.

During the past year 4,746 men, 3,374 women, 9,731 boys and girls successfully passed the rigid tests of the Red Cross—an increase of 5,331 over 1923. Intensive instruction is developing hundreds of qualified examiners for the Red Cross Life-Saving Corps, who supplement the teaching staff maintained by the national organization. The cause of water safety is therefore penetrating to new sections and eventually will cover all American territory.

Recognition of this Red Cross service for humanity is growing apace. At the request of the War Department every military training camp had life-saving instruction last summer. Municipalities have adopted the Red Cross course, public and private schools are offering it to students, business, civic and athletic organizations are promoting campaigns, and police departments are making it a part of the conditioning process for their recruits.

Volunteer life-savers throughout the country, the American Red Cross reports, are eagerly advancing the cause of water safety, 388 volunteers receiving medals for giving from 200 to 300 hours' service in two or three years. In addition 36 rescue bars to medals were awarded members of the Red Cross Corps who saved one or more lives during the year.

It is for the work and extension of life-saving that continued support through memberships is sought, and the American Red Cross urges all persons to join or renew membership during the enrollment campaign opening Armistice Day, November 11.

Red Cross Invites All Into Neutral Army of Service

There are 3,059 counties in the United States and more than 3,500 Chapters of the American Red Cross. The Chapter is the local unit of the national organization, formed to carry out the program, services and policies of the Red Cross. The industry of these 3,500 local units is a voluntary and steady outpouring of well-doing and sympathy which softens human suffering and distress wherever it arises. This work is absolutely neutral, for the Red Cross knows no race, no creed, no color.

The strength of the American Red Cross being in its Chapters, the organization annually invites the people to join or renew their membership during a Roll Call which always begins on Armistice Day, November 11.

"It is this annual enlistment of millions of Americans under the banner of the American Red Cross which makes possible the continued work of this great and democratic legion of mercy," says Judge John Barton Payne, head of the national organization. "Membership in the Red Cross is a privilege within the reach of everyone. The need for service grows more insistent each year. To keep pace with the demands which come from every section of our country, we must have the people's loyal support. Our capacity for service in the year to come will be limited only by the extent to which we receive support for our work in the coming Roll Call."

The invitation of the American Red Cross is unlimited. The enrollment period, Armistice Day to Thanksgiving, is everyone's opportunity to join.

Annual Summons to Service

The annual nation-wide Roll Call of the American Red Cross to enroll members for 1925 will open on Nov. 11, the anniversary of that tense and never-to-be-forgoten Armistice Day six years ago, which silenced the crashing arms of the World War. The enrollment will continue for 17 days, through Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 27. Preliminary to the Roll Call period will come Red Cross Sunday, Nov. 9. During the 17 days set aside for the enrollment more than 3,500 Chapters of the Red Cross and their thousands of branches will invite the people to join the Red Cross or renew their membership.

Not the "Lumberjack" Dentist Had Thought

A certain dentist lived in Quebec who charged his patients not by the amount of work done, but by their capacity to pay.

One day a crew of lumberjacks came in from up the river with a boom of logs from the timber regions of the North. One of the men suffered from a toothache and consulted the dentist. After making an extraction the dentist regarded the logger for a moment and then, when the bearded man from the woods commenced to feel for his change, he asked him what he did for a living.

"Oh, I usually work around a mill," was the reply.

"Then your charge will be 50 cents," said the dentist.

The logger hauled from his pocket a huge wad of currency of staggering denominations and commenced to finger the bills. The dentist was amazed.

"I thought you said you worked around a mill," he said, as he rummaged in his cash drawer for change.

"Well, so I do," said the logger calmly. "I own the mill."

The dentist subsequently learned that the "poor logger" that he had treated for 50 cents was John Rudolphus Booth, one of the richest men in Canada and outstanding industrial magnate of the continent.—Forbes Magazine.

Reached From Grave to Deliver Rebukes

The following is an excerpt from the will of a Wall street man, which was probated in the New York courts:

"To my wife, I leave her lover and the knowledge that I wasn't the fool she thought I was.

"To my son, I leave the pleasure of earning a living. For thirty-five years he has thought that the pleasure was all mine. He was mistaken.

"To my daughter, I leave $100,000. She will need it. The only good piece of business her husband ever did was to marry her.

"To my valet, I leave the clothes that he has been stealing from me regularly for the past ten years. Also my fur coat that he wore last winter when I was in Palm Beach.

"To my chauffeur, I leave my cars. He almost ruined them and I want him to have the satisfaction of finishing the job.

"To my partner, I leave the suggestion that he take some other clever man in with him at once if he expects to do any business."—Wall Street Journal.

The Cup of Paris

Paris, the great gay city, is contained within a cup, says a writer in the Continental edition of the London Daily Mail. You may discover it one day perhaps from a pleasant roof garden and be suddenly surprised to find the city so definitely contained. Wherever you will look there at last appear the soft green hills peeping so serenely down upon the welter of life in the city below. You may even see the trees on the hills, so near are they.

We used to think the city was so big and spread so far, and the Place de la Concorde, what a mighty space it was! There even now we see the dome of the Pantheon, the towers of Notre Dame, the sudden smoky shoot of the Eiffel tower. Gigantic things we used to think them. But now how easily they are held in the cup of the laughing hills!

Drowned Out Conscience

The preacher had told Uncle Ben that in moments of temptation he must listen to the still, small voice of conscience. And Uncle Ben, in the conduct of his second-hand store, tried hard to obey the injunction.

But when Mirandy Jones in a moment of unguarded enthusiasm, offered him $5 for a calico dress for which he hadn't expected to get more than $1.44, he couldn't withstand it.

"Ah fell," he confessed to the preacher afterward. "Ah couldn't help it."

"Didn't you listen to the voice of conscience?" asked the minister.

"Ah listened hard," was the answer, "but honest, Ah couldn't hear nuthin' fo' the sound of the cash register."

Words That Work Hard

There are words it is almost impossible to avoid using, however carefully we may try to do so.

It is said that a quarter of the task of expressing oneself in the English language is borne by nine words—and, be, have, it, of, the, to, will and you. It is also asserted that these nine, with 34 other words, form half the words the average talker uses in ordinary conversation.

The additional 34 words are as follows: About, all, as, at, but, can, come, day, dear, for, get, go, hear, if, in, me, much, not, on, say, she, so, that, these, they, this, though, time, we, with, write, your, her, and one.

All About Dogs and Cats

From a schoolboy's essay on dogs and cats:

"The dog is the commonest of all animals. Its legs are four and one tail of all sizes. Cats are very common in all large towns and streets, but dogs are more so. There is only three things wiser than the dog, which is ourselves, all monkeys, and all elephants. Don't tease cats, for mostly it is wrong so to do and second cats have claws which is longer than people think. Cats have nine lives, but which is seldom required in this country because of Christianity."

When a public official says he can't live on his present salary he means that he does not know how he is going to pay his campaign expenses.

Blessed are the pure in heart. They don't have to explain to people.

COURSES OFFERED IN PUBLIC HEALTH

Correspondence School Conducted by Institutions.

Washington.—Correspondence and reading courses in public health have been conducted by seven state departments of health and by six universities in this country in the last two years, according to the United States public health service, which for more than a year has been collecting data on the subject from the executive officers of state departments of health and from the universities with which Class A medical schools are affiliated.

Of the courses given by departments of health, five are for sanitarians—those conducted in Kansas, Illinois, Ohio, New Mexico and Pennsylvania. In addition, the Virginia state health department offers a correspondence course for teachers; in both Virginia and Minnesota a course is given in the hygiene of maternity and infancy for mothers, and a second course is offered in Pennsylvania, one for persons connected with industries, schools and with civic and religious organizations.

"In no case is tuition charged for the courses conducted by state departments of health," says a summary of the survey. "Mimeographed or printed lessons are distributed in several instances, and in two cases, textbooks are used. Those taking the course are required to answer questions by mail from time to time, in four or five instances in connection with each lesson. The number enrolled varies a great deal, so also does the length of course.

Some Courses for Laymen.

"The correspondence courses offered by universities are in five instances conducted by the extension division of the university and in one case by the department of hygiene. One university conducts only one course, two conduct two courses, two, four courses, and one conducts seven courses. Most courses appeared to be offered primarily for those who are now or intend to be engaged in public health work, although a few courses apparently are for laymen.

"In all cases tuition is charged, textbooks are used and examinations given. Academic credit is granted for all courses, except in one university, where credit is given when the student is enrolled in the school of medicine. The length of courses varies from 20 to 40 lessons. While the courses offered by universities may have a more dignified status than those offered by state departments of health, the number of students enrolled is not large.

"The Ohio state department of health has prepared a course, with the assistance of the International Health board, for persons employed in public health work on a full-time or part-time basis, not including, however, nurses. The work requires one year, but no definite time is set for completing it. The Kansas state board of health, which also received assistance from the International Health board, established in January, 1923, a correspondence course for sanitarians (mostly part-time county health officers). Of the 105 who enrolled the entire number completed the course. The course was repeated in 1924.

"The bureau of public health of the department of public welfare of New Mexico organized for city and county health officers a correspondence course in 1920, consisting of 40 lessons given at weekly intervals. The course was taken by 50 persons. The work has not been conducted in a systematic way since 1920. The Virginia state board of health operates two correspondence courses, one for teachers and one for mothers.

Free Courses for Mothers.

"The Minnesota state board of health, through its division of child hygiene, conducts a correspondence course in the hygiene of maternity and infancy.

"The Pennsylvania department of health, through its division of public health education, has conducted two courses which it designated as correspondence courses.

"The University of Chicago maintains a large home study department. Seven courses are given in the department of hygiene and bacteriology.

"The University of Wisconsin at present offers through its extension division approximately four courses—two for mothers and women generally, one for nurses and one for health officers. The University of Arkansas announces through its general extension divisions, courses in the following subjects: School hygiene, sewerage, water works, and illuminating engineering. The University of Kansas announces through its correspondence study bureau a non-credit course in home health and home nursing, 'which is taken by many women over the state.' The University of Tennessee, through its department of hygiene, offered in January, 1923, a correspondence course in personal and community hygiene.

Valuable Jewels Sifted From Ashes of Ruins

York Harbor, Me.—Part of the $75,000 worth of jewelry in the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Smith of Rochester, N. Y., which was destroyed by fire, has been recovered from the ruins by sifting. Among the articles recovered are a pearl necklace, valued at $40,000, and a diamond brooch.

Another brooch, a diamond bar pin and three emeralds still are missing. Since the fire the ruins about the Smith cottage have been roped off and guards maintained.

HURLS CHALLENGE TO DUEL AT ITALY'S PREMIER, MUSSOLINI

Gen. Ricciotti Garibaldi III, grandson of the Italian patriot, is awaiting the outcome of the challenge to a duel he sent to Mussolini, Fascist premier of Italy. The challenge followed a denunciation by Garibaldi of the "wholesale slaughter" of former Italian soldiers by Fascisti forces while the former were marching in a parade.

ENTER BASKETBALL.

The football season in Charleroi is drawing to a close. It is probably the most successful season for the gridironists ever experienced in Charleroi; certain it is that the game as played by Charleroi High has been of the superfine variety, and for its victories credit is due to the coach, to the players, and to all concerned. The Mail, in common with a delighted public, extends its felicitations and congratulations, trusting that the ability, individually and collectively, to attain the highest honors within the perspective—the W. P. I. A. L.

With the end of football in sight as reflects the season of 1924, the people and the fans will be turning their attention to basketball. The firemen have announced that they will have a team, while it is to be presupposed that the High School will again be represented by its constellation of stars. The Mail trusts that all local basketball teams will meet with the same measure of success that has attended the efforts of the football elevens of the borough; and that the public will show its appreciation of their efforts by its attendance at games, thus evidencing its interest in the game as revealed by its substantial approbation.

It is stated that in this country the number of native whites of full native white parentage and of voting age is approximately 24,000,000, while the number of white voters of foreign parentage, plus white voters of half foreign parenage, plus negro voters, plus voters born abroad, but now naturalized, is approximately 19,000,000. In consequence nearly half of the country's voters can be reached only by some sort of special argument based on races or on European rather than on American political issues.

The two first women Governors, Mrs. Ferguson of Texas and Mrs. Ross of Wyoming, both elected by Democrats, are referred to in a headline as "the two Governesses," but whether "Governess" Ferguson and "Governess" Ross will submit to being so addressed remains to be seen. It is rather unfortunate for them that when our language was invented or got its growth neither the 19th amendment nor women members of Parliament were dreamed of.

The Father of this Country would hardly approve of the research that culminated in an article in the Living Age entitled "George Washington's False Teeth."

Little Matter That the Lawyers Overlooked

Judge Smith sat on the Circuit bench in Missouri many years ago. He was known far and wide as one of the most patient and long-suffering judges in the state. Procedure in his court was free and easy, and gross indeed was the offense if it called forth a rebuke from Judge Smith.

On one case it is told that the opposing lawyers settled down to their arguments before the jury without any time limitations and with a bountiful supply of chewing tobacco. While one argued the other chewed, and while the second one talked the first caught up with his chewing. The two lawyers talked from eight o'clock one morning until after six o'clock that afternoon. The jury listened patiently and the judge alternately slept and read. At last, however, the lawyers announced that they were through with their pleadings.

"And now, gentlemen of the jury," Judge Smith began, "these two gentlemen have spoken long and eloquently on the law in this case. However, you are not to take into consideration one way or the other any of their arguments on this point of law. The last legislature repealed the law, anyway!" —Kansas City Star.

Hair-Net Industry in China Is Extensive

The hair-net business in China has had quite a history. It was established originally by Germans, who imported the nets from Chefoo into Germany and then exported them to the United States as European-made hair nets. There is still considerable export of human-hair nets from China to European countries.

When direct trade in human-hair nets was taken up with China, large quantities of imperfect, under-sized, and generally poor nets were exported. This finally resulted in the establishment in Chefoo and Tsinan, by the foreign and a few large Chinese exporters, of hair-net inspection factories, some employing as many as 1,000 operatives, where hair-net cargoes are inspected and, if necessary, the nets repaired before being shipped.

The net-making itself is a home or "cottage" industry; the hair is distributed around in the various villages—in the hinterland of Chefoo and in the region of the Shantung railway—and the nets usually pass through the hands of several Chinese middlemen before they are offered by

ALIBIS AND THINGS.

(Charlie Pivot, in Bridgeton, N. J., Evening News)

The Democratic National Committee is understood to have held a stewed crow dinner last evening at the organization's clubhouse on Salt River. Alibi Ike, chairman of the Grievance Committee, was the principal orator and five microphones carried his touching words into the homes of Democrats generally.

"Gentlemen of the Democracy," Mr. Ike said, "we have been undone. We are victims of 'Coolidge luck.' The Washington American League team won the league pennant and the world's championship and the President attended the games and got so much publicity that the election was turned around on its axis. Then, too, our dear party 'blundered' terribly. Mr. Davis selected that absolutely useless 'Charlie' Bryan for his running mate and that cost us 3,658,902 votes. Chief Cook Walsh let the 'teapot' boil over and that made such a smell that most of the guests left the dining room of what we thought was our most attractive hotel.

"LaFollette double-crossed us. He promised to take a lot of votes from the Republicans for our benefit and He was a great big bluff and didn't carry out his promise to throw the election into Congress. I suggest that we cancel his associate membership in our party and ask him to return his door key.

"And whoever selected this barber, Clem Shaver, should be taken off the nominating committee for life. He hasn't found out yet what it is all about. He lost West Virginia and Bryan lost Nebraska and instead of having any new States we lost a couple of old ones.

"Gentlemen, I suggest that four years from now we hold our national convention on Chincoteague Island and that we all talk a little lower. Somebody overheard what we said at Madison Square Garden, about the Klan, the League of Nations, about McAdoo and Smith and they told on us. That cost us just 2,805,743 votes that I know of. And this guy McAdoo, who started all the fuss, next went to Europe and then got sick and he never even mended the stuff he broke.

"I regret the necessity of calling your attention to these little eccentricities among our membership but somebody has to explain why we were so unmercifully licked and why Davis polled 1,000,000 less than Cox did four years ago, despite the greatly increased vote. The rest of my committee on grievances are still out canvassing the complaints and they will make a full report at the next meeting which will be on April 1, 1925, at Louisville, Kentucky. I thank you!"

Does Your Back Ache?

Bad Backs Bring Suffering to Many Charleroi Folks.

Is that dull, constant backache making you old and miserable? Does your back throb and ache until it seems you just can't keep going? Do you suffer headaches, dizzy spells and urinary disorders; feel weak, tired and worn-out? Then look to your kidneys. Delay may mean serious kidney sickness! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Doan's are recommended by Charleroi folks.

A. W. Pennline, 713½ Crest Ave., Charleroi, says: "My kidneys became weak and sharp pains took me in the small of my back and I felt badly all over. When I stooped, the pains dug in deeper and I could hardly straighten again. My work obliged me to be on my feet all day and at night my back was lame and sore. My kidneys didn't act often enough. After using Doan's Pills, I was completely cured."

RED CROSS DUTY TO AID VETERANS

Spends Nearly Four Millions in Year to Lessen Burdens of Disabled Soldiers.

SERVES 63,700 IN HOSPITALS

Every Case Is Given Individual Service—Assists Families of These Men Everywhere.

Washington.—The need of individual assistance by ex-service men and their families from the Red Cross is as pressing today as it was immediately after the end of the World War. For six years this work has been foremost of all Red Cross services, and in emphasizing the steady public support of this work the Red Cross National Headquarters urges the largest enrollment this year during the membership campaign opening on Armistice Day, November 11.

Nearly four million dollars of Red Cross funds spent for disabled veterans and their dependents during the year ended June 30 last presents some idea of the magnitude of this work. The current year, it is estimated, will call for still further disbursements of funds for the reason that the Red Cross, through more than 3,500 Chapters in as many communities in the United States, has been called upon to help the ex-service men in making out their applications for the adjusted compensation granted in the so-called bonus law.

58,767 Soldier Cases a Month

The Red Cross work for the disabled soldier is designated "home service," for it gives individual attention to the man and his family approximating the interest and loving care of the home. Such service in the hospitals, camps, soldiers' homes and sanatoria, averaged 33,951 cases a month during the year. Assistance to ex-service men and their dependents averaged 58,767 cases a month. In addition, the Red Cross in the last twelve months provided 33,000 recreation and entertainment events in the hospitals and camps.

Thus the Red Cross, symbolized as the "Greatest Mother," still watches over these many thousands of men, comforts them, helps to lighten the tedium of their physical reconstruction, and in their homes lifts some of the burdens from their "own people."

Work in Communities Increases

The home service of the Red Cross was the most pressing duty of 2,609 Chapters, an increase of 182 communities where problems affected by the war veteran's condition required solution through immediate and intelligent assistance. The Chapters alone expended some $2,000,000 in this work.

The transient disabled soldier, usually suffering from disability or tuberculosis, is almost everywhere a grave problem. From national funds the past year $173,076.36 was expended in helping the Chapters to care for these wandering men.

According to government report there are 4,800 veterans in civilian institutions, and in the national homes for soldiers the complications are increasing. The large groups of patients whose claims have been disallowed, of veterans of foreign wars, and the great number of men permanently resident in these institutions call for Red Cross work which cannot be avoided nor denied.

Definite Service to 73,700

Of a total of 84,500 ex-service men in hospitals and other institutions 73,700 were rendered a definite and specialized service by the Red Cross. In a single month 4,185 new cases were presented and a total of 20,125 was acted upon—figures which serve to illustrate the magnitude of the information and claims service engaging the attention of Red Cross workers. New veteran legislation amending the War Risk act which extends many additional rights to disabled ex-service men will reopen thousands of cases and require still greater Red Cross service.

When Congress granted a charter to the American Red Cross it charged the organization with the duty to act as "the medium of communication between the American people and their Army and Navy." This responsibility to the enlisted men and their families is met every year without restriction.

Serves Men on Active Service

The extent of this Red Cross activity during the last year embraced a total of 195,246 cases. There were 36,995 separate soldiers' and sailors' claims; 20,316 investigations of home conditions; 11,421 cases related to discharges, furloughs, etc. Assistance was given in 39,688 instances for personal, business or family problems; 744,220 visits were made to the sick or disabled, and nearly 40,000 letters and telegrams dispatched to the homes of enlisted men.

From June to September at the numerous military training camps the Red Cross provided information and home service to the trainees, also instruction in First Aid and Life-Saving. The entertainment and recreation events at the various Army and Navy hospitals reached nearly 9,500 during the year, and occupational therapy in nine Naval hospitals gave constructive and beneficial results and occupied the time of patients [illegible] ing of useful and ornamental things.

Modern Eve to Brave Forest Alone To Obtain "Local Color" for Novel

Charles Payne, Kansas naturalist and writer, is planning to write a novel with a modern Eve as heroine. To obtain the proper "color," he is going to send a young woman into a North Carolina forest to battle with nature for an existence. Then he will inject her experiences into his story. Here are shown Payne with his wife, and one of the young women considered for the modern Eve role.

Key Is One of Oldest of Religious Symbols

When you next unlock the door of your home or office, reflect a moment upon the ancient and historic symbolism of the key. If you ever have the opportunity to examine the images of the Egyptian deities you will notice in the hands of some of them a cross with a circular handle. It represents the Ankh, or key of life, one of the oldest of all religious symbols, denoting the power to open and close the doors of heaven. The key had a magical meaning for the Greeks and Romans. Their gods were often given the title of key-bearer, as, for example, Janus, the god of gates, who was supposed to unlock the doors of war and peace. In early Christian history the symbol of the key was associated with St. Peter, with his two keys of gold and iron. In the Middle ages the key was used to assist in the identification of guilty persons. If, for instance, a theft had been committed, a key was laid on the open page of a Bible, when it was supposed to move towards the culprit. Wedding rings had their origin in the key presented to the Roman bride by her husband, as a sign of her authority in his household.

Proof of Smoked Ham

That the proof of the smoked ham is in the smell is the conclusion reached by the wholesale meat packers, as a result of years of experience, according to a story recently published. This ham-smelling business, moreover, as might be expected, is of a nature that, to become an expert at it, requires years of training. A man experienced in this line of work, however, is able to test 2,000 or 3,000 hams a day, and in some of the large houses, where many thousands are turned out daily, there may be a regular corps of them employed. Upon the infallibility of the judgment of these men, indeed, the reputation of such concerns largely depends. Certainly there are more ways of making a living than the average individual realizes!—Christian Science Monitor.

The South Sea Bubble

Speculation at its wildest was shown in the "South Sea Bubble," a $50,000,000 project launched by Robert Hartley, earl of Oxford, England, to develop trade monopoly with Spain about 1711. When Spain, after the treaty of Utrecht, refused to open her commerce to England, the privileges which the South Sea boasted of getting became worthless. In spite of that stock rose to $1,000 a share, largely through speculation, until Sir John Blunt, one of the leaders, sold out, and thousands were beggared with the drop of the stock. Fraud was disclosed and the company paid only 33 per cent.

Origin of Name "Canada"

According to Father Hennepin, the name Canada was derived from a corruption of the Spanish words Capo de Nada, or Cape of Nothing, which the early voyagers gave to the scene of their discoveries when, under a conviction of its utter barrenness and inutility, they were about abandoning it in disgust, says the Detroit News.

It has been conjectured by late historians, with greater appearance of probability, that Canada is a modification of the Spanish word signifying "a passage" because the Spaniards thought they could find a passage to India through Canada.

Explaining Bishop's Garb

That the modern bishop wears the garb he does only because it is the relic of the days long ago when a bishop had to ride about his diocese in all manner of [illegible] make the regular visits to his very large flock is a theory advanced in England. The apron is a relic of the riding apron, it is maintained, and the cords on the hat were once hat cords to protect against high winds, and the breeches and leggings are still familiar in the garb of the equestrian.

A fine coat of paint on an old car don't add any power to the engine.

Slow Poisons in Tea When Improperly Made

A slow and deadly poison can result from the incorrect brewing of tea, whereas, it is a harmless and pleasant beverage if certain rules are adhered to, explains a scientist in the Baltimore Sun.

Its stimulating effects are due to the presence in tea leaves of a powerful drug called theine. If the pot is not allowed to stand too long, only a small quantity of this substance is dissolved out of the leaves by the hot water, and the tea refreshes us without doing any harm. When the teapot is allowed to remain for hours on the stove, an excessive quantity of theine is extracted from the leaves, together with a larger amount of another semi-poisonous substance known as tannin.

These two together form a real poison, affecting the nerves, the digestion and the general health. Stewed tea is almost as harmful as opium or cocaine. The habit of taking it in this way is soon formed, and the tea drunkard thinks nothing of consuming 20 or 30 cups a day.

Resented Insinuation

Jake Simpson's middle girl, Elsie, the one that's been brought up in the city, came down to Oak Holler the other Sunday to look over her Uncle Eb Simpson's farm and it seems that Eb got real het up over her visit and bundled her right off to town agin.

Eb ain't talkin' none, but somehow the story got out anyhow.

It seems Eb was showin' Elsie the farm critters and sech when they come on Eb's yaller cat and her litter of kittens.

"Oh, Uncle Eb, those kittens are all different colors," says Elsie. Eb draws himself up as straight as he can, him havin' the rheumatism, and almost chokes on his chaw of tobaccer.

"Well, young lady," he says. "Don't you try to cast no reflections. I'll say this much. Ma and me've tried to bring our cats up right."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Curiosities of Smell

No substance that refuses to dissolve in water has an odor. It is the actual substance itself, floating in the air, that appeals to the nose and not simply a vibration of the air, as in the case of light and sound, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The damper a thing is the more powerful odor it gives off. A pleasant proof of the fact can be had by walking in a garden after rain. There is no end to the curiosities of smell. It is, for example, the vapor of a liquid that smells and not the liquid in the mass itself. If eau de cologne be poured into the nostril the nose refuses to recognize any odor there at all.

Knew Feminine Weakness

There was a canvasser at the door trying to sell Mrs. Higgins a burglar alarm.

"But I don't need any of your burglar alarms," she told the man, making as if to shut the door.

"That's just what the lady next door said," was the reply.

"What do you mean?" asked Mrs. Higgins, now on the alert. She hated "that woman."

"She said that it was no use my calling on you," went on the man, "for you wouldn't need any, as you had nothing worth stealing."

"Give me three," interrupted Mrs. Higgins, gritting her teeth.

Human Instep Tells Story

Man only of the larger primates has retained the long primitive instep bone in spite of his large body [illegible] As the bulk of the body developed science might suppose that the instep would shorten. This human development is accounted unusual in view of the development of apes and similar bipeds, but is partially explained in that man used his heel and foot as he now does, even before his body began to assume large proportions, and this indicates that originally humans were short of stature, but accustomed to erect posture.

FIGHT 100 YEARS FOR $100,000,000

Death May End Legal Battle Waged Many Years.

Berlin.—Heir to more than $100,000,000, lying ready in the Bank of England, and yet having to live on alms of $1.50 a week.

That is the queer fate of Bernhard Goetze of Leipzig, who just now is the principal in a weird inheritance fight which has strained the legal apparatus of three continents and has stretched through nearly a whole century.

The story of this fight is told by the Neue Leipziger Zeitung, which says it bases it on legal documents.

The fortune was amassed by three bearers of the name of Goetze who left Germany between 1797 and 1819. One, Johann Friedrich Goetze, went to Batavia, amassed a fortune in lands and ships valued at $40,000,000. When he died he left it all to his widow.

The widow married a cousin of her husband, Joann Christoph Goetze, who had also gone to Batavia, had entered the Dutch army service and had become governor of Batavia and commander of the Dutch troops.

Get Second Fortune.

The couple quit Batavia and went [illegible] where they arrived just in time to receive the inheritance left to them by Johann Christian Goetze, another cousin. This cousin had gone to the Orange Free State, had dug for gold, and had found 10,000 pounds of it, all of which, in blinking bar gold, now went to the former governor of Batavia.

This croesus died in Cape Town in 1831, leaving his immense fortune in gold, in lands, in ships and mines to his parents and brothers and sisters in Germany. But these never learned of their good fortune.

Finally in 1867, a sister, Mrs. Erdmuthe Goetze, who had married her cousin of the same name, learned of the inheritance through a newspaper notice.

Immediately, the hunt after the inheritance began. More than 317 bearers of the name of Goetze laid claim to it. After years of legal battles, it was decided that the heirs were Mrs. Erdmuthe Goetze and her children, of whom two were still alive, Bernhard Goetze and Mrs. Louise Teichmann.

The government of Saxony took a hand in the case. In agreement with the British crown treasury, under whose management the estate had increased to $100,000,000, a Doctor Mueller of the Saxon courts was installed as administrator. In 1872, he was relieved of that, however, because it was charged that he furthered the interests, not of the real heirs, but those of another branch.

Later the English consul general at Leipzig, Charles Crove, took the matter in hand, but made little progress because the heirs could not agree among themselves.

Proves Her Claim.

In 1875 Mrs. Erdmuthe Goetze went to London where she received documents proving that the Cape Town courts had awarded the inheritance to her and her children, but received no money.

A trip to Mrs. Teichmann at London also proved vain.

In 1900 a man named Bode received a part of the inheritance. This led to another legal battle, in which Bode's lawyer won.

Four trips of Bernhard Goetze to London proved fruitless because he was unable to present his claims in a form that the English courts would accept.

A complaint to the then Prime Minister Balfour brought the reply that he should employ an English lawyer, but as Goetze is penniless, this is vain service.

Mystery is added to the case by the fact that documents in the files show Mrs. Teichmann had died in the meantime. Goetze maintains, however, his sister is still living as wife of a bank director in Stuttgart.

Waiting and fighting for his inheritance, Bernhard Goetze meanwhile has grown to be seventy-nine years old.

He is supported in his fight by a "Goetze association," which was founded in 1911 and consists of about thirty members. Every member pays 5 cents a week, which goes to Goetze and on which this heir to millions lives.

In return, however, the association is to get 10 per cent of Goetze's inheritance—if he ever gets it.

Goetze himself says only the conviction of his legal right keeps him going and he firmly believes that some day the $100,000,000 will come to him.

Volcano Driving All Inhabitants Off Island

Manila.—The entire population of Bubuyan island, one of the Bubuyan group, about 100 miles north of Luzon, may be transferred to another island nearer the coast of Luzon.

An active volcano has driven the 260 inhabitants from their homes down to the water's edge, and frequently they are compelled to take to their canoes to escape the showers of rocks and the lava which stream down the mountain side.

An American Red Cross investigator, who is now on his way to the island with relief supplies, will ascertain if the inhabitants want to move to another island where agricultural conditions are better. [illegible] are willing to move the Red Cross will assist them in establishing homes on another island.

Collie Certainly Was Clever Though Crooked

The dog story the other day seems to have attracted considerable attention, says a writer in the Montreal Herald, for in this morning's mail I received the following from an acquaintance:

"A friend of mine is a butcher, who [illegible] come into the shop, wag its tail and drop a letter at his feet. The meat man opened the note and discovered that it was an order, signed by the collie's master, for a piece of sausage. The dog was given the meat, and the amount chalked up on the master's account. This occurred several times, [illegible] fold the notes, knowing what they [illegible]

"The dog continued his visits more or less frequently, and when the account went in there was a kick from its owner There was something like ten pounds of sausages charged to the animal It's master said he had only given a dozen or so orders to the dog He happened to be in the shop the next day when his dog came in and dropped the usual piece of paper Then it was found that 'Nero,' noticing that the butcher didn't read the order, had been picking up stray pieces of paper, folding them, and taking them to the shop, thereby assuaging his sausage hunger."

High and Low Lands

The maximum difference between the high land and the low in the United States proper is 14,477 feet. According to the official figures, Mount Whitney, the highest point, is 14,501 feet above sea level, while Death valley, the lowest point, is 275 feet below sea level. These two points, which are both in California, are less than 90 miles apart. The difference between them seems small, however, when compared with the difference between the highest and lowest point in Asia. Mount Everest rises 29,002 feet above sea level, whereas the shores of the Dead sea are 12,290 feet below it—a difference of 41,292 feet.

Interbred Chickens

The origin of the Rhode Island Red chicken was similar to that of the Buff Orpington in England It was a local race of poultry found extensively in Rhode Island, produced by the farmers themselves without any definite breeding and from uncertain stock It is thought by some authorities that a considerable foundation of this local Rhode Island poultry was an old smooth legged Cochin China stock; but that ordinary Cochins were also largely bred is undoubted, and there is strong evidence that the Asiatic stock was considerably crossed and intermingled with Brown Leghorns

Siberia Huge Gold Mine

Gold—enough to give $100,000 apiece to 60,000 people—lies unmined in Siberia, waiting to be taken out of the ground, says the New York Herald. Six billion dollars is the total value This is the estimate of American mining engineers who have been looking the country over And yet this gold is only a shadow of Siberia's greater natural resources—fabulous amounts of coal and oil metals and farming soil that grows everything from tobacco and cotton to grapes and watermelons

A Delightful Row

"My wife had suffered from stomach and liver trouble for many years and had taken medicine enough to sink a ship; so when I brought home a bottle of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, on the advice of my employer, she refused to take it. Her liver trouble hadn't helped her disposition any. We had a big row, but she took it the next week. Her ailments have all disappeared." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists.

Today and Yesterday

FEW youngsters to day ever saw a horse-hair sofa. They wouldn't know what to do with a fire taper, carpet stretcher, or coal oil lamp. They couldn't braid rags into a rug, or wind yarn without tangling. But they know the how and why of typewriters, phonographs, radios, telephones, automobiles; what happens when a push of the button gives light, or a kodak's flash fixes their image on paper.

Their education is as modern as the advertisements they see. They have no more use for the lamp and chimney of yesterday than you for the wick and tallow of the day before.

Advertisements induce such progress. They urge wide use that means improvement. They help you lift the out-of-date into the attic—rid you of the water buckets and soap kettles of slavedom. They bring late improvements within your reach.

Read the advertisements regularly. Keep alert to the new.

Without advertising, you would never know a product's worth until you had bought it

MAN WHO BUILT ELECTRIC CHAIR WAS EXECUTED

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 14—Since the electric chair was introduced into the Ohio state penitentiary here, it has claimed 101 lives. It is also a notable fact that the man who built the electric chair died in it. His name was Charles Justice and he had two weaknesses. One was a mania for experimenting with electricity and the other was for stealing. For the latter he served three terms in the big Spring Street prison and while "doing his liberty was short lived. Once outbuilt the chair.

This fine piece of work won him a pardon from Governor Harmon. But his liberty was short lived. Once outside the walls of the prison he began to steal and during one of his theft sprees he killed a man to cover up the theft.

In July of 1911 he was convicted of first degree murder and on October 27 that same year he was led up to the platform on which rests the death chair and strapped into the seat which he had designed for others.

Hanging was abandoned as the form of capital punishment at Ohio in 1897.

KANSAS CITY USES RIVER FOR WHEAT

Kansas City Mo. Nov. 14—This inland city for the first time in history recently established connection by way of the Mississippi river with the Gulf of Mexico.

Five hundred thousand bushels of Kansas wheat shipped through Kansas City floated from St. Louis. Mo., out to sea and to European markets with a saving over rail transportation of 2 cents a bushel or $10,000.

The barge line which moved the wheat soon will extend its service direct to Kansas City via the Missouri river.

The wheat was loaded in St. Louis from freight cars and ten days later it was in storage elevators at New Orleans.

The second shipment totals 700,000 bushels and is soon to get under way bringing the total bushels of wheat transported down the river to 1,200,000 bushels, and representating a saving in transportation of $24,000 to the shipper.

ACTORS RESCUED AS GALLEY CAVES IN

Leghorn, Nov. 14—The shell of an old Roman galley caved in today, spilling 176 Italian film "supers" into a rough sea. The galley was being used by an American company filming "Ben Hur." Tugboats standing by rescued all hands.

LOOKING FOR A WOMAN IN THE KATZ MURDER

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 14.—Police today searched for beautiful Dorothy Carroll, estranged wife of Chase P. Carroll, arrested in connection with the murder of Harry I. Katz, millionaire diamond broker.

Carroll was taken into custody last night and police said he confessed he shot a man in a jealous quarrel over Mrs. Carroll after the couple had "gone on a wild party" together.

Mrs. Carroll filed suit for divorce three months ago and according to her husband was one of Katz' sweethearts and at the time of his death last Monday was wearing one of his diamond rings.,

Police said the type of gun Carroll used in his confessed shooting of his wife's companion, was the same calibre as the one used to kill Katz at the door of his bachelor apartments.

Detectives working on the theory Katz was the victim of a man and woman of the underworld who after working the badger game on him were attempting to blackmail him, continued search for "Stan the Wop" and "Rose," who are believed hiding in Los Angeles.

EX-PREMIERS SAY NO TRUTH IN QUARREL REPORTED

London, Nov. 14. — Both Georges Clemenceau and David Lloyd George today declared that there was no truth in Wickham Steed's account of how the two ex-premiers nearly fought a duel in the days of Versailles.

The former editor of the Times was not disturbed by their denials.

"Naturally, I should not have written what I did if I were not sure of my facts," Steed said.

His book, "Over Thirty Years," is creating a sensation. Besides describing an alleged row between Lloyd George and Clemenceau, in which Steed says the Welshman had "the tiger" by the collar, and Woodrow Wilson had to intervene, the author makes his book intriguing by the casual way in which he tells of giving advice to cabinet officers and kings.

"It is a stupid invention," Lloyd George said, referring to Steed's description of the alleged scuffle with Clemenceau, which Steed, according to the author, in "the Tiger" offering reparation with swords or pistols. "The statement does not contain the slightest basis of truth."

"Zut! There's not a word of truth in it," Clemenceau said when queried at his residence in France today.

But Steed says someone who is in a high position and whose word it is impossible to doubt described the incident.

"Even then, I verified the story before printing it," he added.

SEEK TO PRESERVE FAMOUS SHOT TOWER

Baltimore Plans to Buy Ancient Structure.

Baltimore.—The Shot tower, which has stood as a landmark at Fayette and Front streets in Baltimore for almost a hundred years, will be purchased by the city of Baltimore and preserved, if efforts of a number of citizens and organizations are successful.

When the owners of the tower announced last June that unless the city took over the structure it would be demolished, Mayor Howard Jackson said that if the public showed genuine sentiment for preservation of the shaft the city would buy it.

Following the lead of the Daughters of the American Revolution, numerous patriotic and other societies and many individuals appealed for the preservation of the old landmark.

Representatives of these societies held a conference with the mayor and it was decided to acquire the tower by public subscription.

Late in August, when the owners of the tower and the mayor failed to agree on a purchase price, an ordinance was passed by the city council providing for condemnation of the [illegible] funds had not raised the necessary amount within a certain time.

With this time limit approaching expiration, and the committee still in need of several thousand dollars, the tower seems likely to come down.

The tower is the highest of its kind in the world, and is regarded as the oldest munition factory in the United States. From a base 40 feet in diameter the shaft rises to a height of 246 feet. The column tapers as it ascends, so that the diameter at the top is only 20 feet. It was built in 1828, Charles Carroll, signer of the Declaration of Independence, laying the corner stone.

The interior of the structure was destroyed by fire in 1878, but was rebuilt, and shot-dropping continued until 1892. The the tower was abandoned for shotmaking because of the advent of improved methods of manufacture.

Doctor Raises Wolves as Pets in Private Park

Kane, Pa.—Dr. E. H. McCleery of Kane has an unusual hobby—the domestication of timber wolves.

His sixteen wolves are of the largest type in North America and housed in a half-acre park. This park is surrounded by a four-acre playground for the wolves.

"The United States government had about extinguished the 'buffalo wolves' so I got a few to save the species," Doctor McCleery explained.

"I am at times an accepted member of the pack. Sometimes on moonlight nights I let the wolves into an outside inclosure, where the big gray fellows take turns playing 'deer.' One of the wolves will run down hill, imitating the bounding of a deer. The pack take after him, and overtake the mock deer at the foot of the hill, pulling him down and rolling him over, but all in fun.

"Finally my turn comes, and I go hopping down the hill, imitating a deer as best I can. The wolves spring after me with great bounds. I try to drop just about as they spring at me, to save being knocked down. It's all friendly play, but the wolves enjoy it."

Professors Turn Light on Hidden Girl Genius

Boston, Mass.—A young woman declared by a committee of industrial leaders and Harvard professors to be a genius whose light was being hidden under the routine of school teaching and factory work was identified as Miss Muriel Black, employed temporarily by the Plymouth Cordage company in Plymouth.

Those who saw her after a report of the committee of the Associated Industries became public said the committee might well have added "extremely attractive" to its summary of qualities of the twenty-four-year-old girl—"poise, outlook, a fine physique, excellent practical judgment and great ambition."

Miss Black, in discussing the committee's choice, said:

"I want to study medicine and specialize in children's diseases. That has been my ambition since I was a little girl of ten years in Michigan."

The committee has indicated that the education will be forthcoming as a result of its findings and the confirmation by the Harvard professors.

Breakfast in Church Swells Sunday School

Pittsburgh.—The excuse that Friend Wife failed to arise in time to prepare breakfast before Sunday school is decidedly out of order for members of the Highland Men's Bible class of the Highland Presbyterian church. Breakfast was served in the church basement prior to the opening of the class meeting, hot ham and eggs being on the menu. The innovation attracted many. The Sunday morning breakfasts are to be continued for late risers and as a means of stimulating Sunday school attendance.

PASSPORT THIEVES BUSY IN EUROPE

Scores of Stolen Papers Are Reported Weekly.

Hamburg.—American passports and foreign passports vised for the United States are now worth their weight in gold in central Europe, and passports thieves are busy on trains, in hotels and on steamers and wharves.

Scores of stolen passports are reported weekly to American consular officials. It is a frequent occurrence for a foreigner who has obtained a vised document for America to have his papers stolen before he sails.

Americans are warned by consular officers to keep the numbers of their passports, and make speedy reports of theft to the nearest consul, so that the papers may be canceled from Washington and steps taken to prevent imposters from reaching the United States. Travelers are warned not to leave their passports in their luggage, even if it is locked, and advised to carry them in inside pockets beyond the reach of sneak thieves.

The situation has become particularly bad since the new American immigration law went into effect. There are evidences that organized gangs are dealing in papers supplied [illegible] America. Forgers can easily change names and photographs and descriptions.

While purchasers of altered passports will probably come to grief sooner or later, there are so many persons clamoring for admission to the United States that sharpers find a ready market for their stolen wares.

3,200,000 Vets Fail to Apply for Bonus

Washington.—Announcement that applications for adjusted compensation have been received thus far from 1,300,000 veterans was made recently by Maj. Gen. Robert C. Davis, adjutant general. Veterans entitled to compensation total 4,500,000. General Davis urges that the applications of the others be filed promptly.

Of those 850,000 examined so far about 400,000 have been passed and certificates for amounts due have been forwarded to the veterans' bureau.

"Our force of approximately 2,500 clerks is now working at maximum speed and efficiency," said General Davis. "The War department is now ready to receive, verify, and certify an average of 30,000 or more applications daily.

"It is imperative from the standpoint of economy in the administration of the act and consequent saving to the taxpayer that those veterans who intend to avail themselves eventually of the benefits conferred by the act should make their applications now."

French Scientist Makes Synthetic Petroleum

Paris.—A French scientist has succeeded in producing synthetic petroleum, it was announced here recently at the scientific congress, which has as its object the relief of France from foreign oil monopolies.

The man who may revolutionize the world's oil trade is Professor Mailze of Toulouse. Starting with vegetable and animal oils, he said he had been able to reconstitute gasoline with all of the properties which characterize the fluid when it is taken from the earth. The only obstacle to the cheap, unlimited production of synthetic petroleum, he said, was the production of cheap vegetable and animal oils.

France being one of the countries which contains no natural oil fields, there has been a great effort here for some time to find a means of producing a substitute for the high-priced foreign-controlled product.

Farm Land Melts in River

Nearman, Kan.—Acre after acre of fertile soil is gradually dropping into the Missouri river at two sharp bends west of Nearman, on the Missouri Pacific railroad, where the river slowly has been eating its way through ripening corn fields and melon patches toward the Kansas bluffs for several months.

Cow as Shield and Gun Rest in Shooting

Stockville, Neb.—Will Schmeekle has sent to the stockyards at St. Joseph an old red cow that had served him most efficiently as a hunter of wild ducks and geese. The cow had been efficiently trained along this line by Schmeekle and when he went in the quest of the wild waterfowl, instead of a dog he would sally forth with the red hunting cow.

That part of Nebraska where Schmeekle lives is dotted with numerous lakes and streams, where wild ducks and geese like to feed. When Schmeekle would see a flock of ducks or geese alight on one of these streams he would go on the off side of the cow, crouch down low and, guiding her by one ear, maneuver her close to where the birds were feeding. When he got close enough to the birds he would straighten up and let the buckshot fly, usually bagging [illegible] of the birds at one shot. The old cow was not in the least disturbed by the shooting.

Pistols That Figured in Affairs of Honor

Apropos of the Nomad's dueling stories, a correspondent, says the Boston Transcript, sends the following:

"Dear Nomad—This regarding the duel between Hamilton and Burr may be of interest to you:

"Some years ago, in passing through Geneva, N. Y., I was guest of Mr. Richard Church, an old family friend. In talking on things of historic interest, Mr. Church paused and, stooping down, reached under the sofa and revealed to my expectant gaze a mahogany box. On opening the box, he showed me the original flintlock pistols used in the Hamilton-Burr duel. Mr. Church informed me that these same flintlocks had been used also in two other duels—the Wilkes-Burr duel and the Church-Burr duel. Mr. Richard Church was a descendant of the opponent (Church) of Burr in the Church-Burr duel. Mr. Church showed me that one of the flintlocks was broken and informed me this break had occurred while he was a lad in shooting while at play. Mr. Church has passed away and I do not know the present whereabouts of these historic flintlocks. Perhaps they fell to his daughter, who at the time of my visit was the wife of Rev. Dr. Hart of St. Mark's church, Rochester, N. Y. Mrs. Hart's mother was one of the [illegible] ters, and was christened Angelica Schuyler Church. Perhaps some reader can give data as to the present owner of the flintlock. DAMON."

That the dueling pistols used in the Burr-Hamilton affair should also have served in two other encounters in which Burr was concerned is a pretty good indication that Burr kept himself supplied with weapons. But in the Church affair his pistols seem to have gone to his antagonist. The veritable weapon with which Burr killed Hamilton must be a valuable possession for a collector.

Beginning of Empire in Great Northwest

Large looms the Columbia river in the history of our country. It was the key that unlocked the great Northwest and added three states to the Union—the only portion of the United States acquired by right of discovery, possession and settlement, says the Nation's Business.

It was in the mouth of the Columbia that Captain Gray of Boston sailed his ship Columbia in 1792 and raising the Stars and Stripes, took possession of the Northwest, in the name of the United States.

Here, where the mighty Columbia tumbles its waters into the Pacific, Lewis and Clark, first to carry our flag across the continent, reached their western destination in the winter of 1805-06.

Another six years saw the Astor-Hunt expedition, traveling by land and sea, establish at the mouth of the Columbia the first permanent American settlement on the Pacific coast.

Then followed the outriders of empire—the missionary, the trapper, the adventurer.

Came 1843! Thrilled by the story of the paradise beyond the mountains and fired by the militant cry of "54-40 or fight!" of Senator Thomas Hart Benton, the ox-drawn covered wagon trains started moving westward on the greatest migration of all history, bringing within a little more than a decade 200,000 settlers who established homes, schools and churches, founded an empire, and saved the great Northwest for the Union.

Stars

The stars that still sojourn, yet still move onward; and everywhere the blue sky belongs to them, and is their appointed rest and their native country and their natural homes, which they enter unannounced, as lords that are certainly expected, and yet there is a silent joy at their arrival.—Coleridge.

One Original Tongue

There are some persons who suppose that Hebrew was the language spoken by Adam. Others say that Hebrew, Chaldean and Arabic are mere dialects of the original tongue, of which it is said in Genesis 11:1: "The whole earth was of one language and of one speech."

One hundred and ninety-two disas- ... to 1,332 persons, rendering nearly 14,000 homeless and causing property losses estimated at more than $44,750,000, established a new record in the United States in the year ended last June 30, according to reports of the American Red Cross. In all of these disasters immediately relief activity was applied by the Red Cross, which expended $737,603.37 through the national organization and the local Chapters in assisting stricken communities.

As the nation's chief relief agency, whose service covers over 43 years, the Red Cross is expected to be on duty almost as soon as disaster strikes any locality. This trust and confidence is amply justified by the increasing equipment of the Red Cross, which recently organized a mobile disaster unit of experienced workers ready in all parts of the country to respond on the instant to a call for active duty. This unit is capable of operating in several disaster areas under one general direction, and recently was at work in seven communi- ...

Ability, alertness and increasing skill of volunteer workers in more than 3,500 Chapters are reasons for the preparedness of Red Cross for disaster operations, be the call for a disturbance in a restricted local area or for millions in relief funds for a staggering catastrophe such as the earthquake in Japan.

What one Woman learned 35 Years ago

Years ago when the first spoonful of Calumet Baking Powder was used, one housewife learned the secret of success on bake-day. She found that what she had thought bad luck in the past was really the fault of inferior leaveners.

Over a third of a century has passed since that housewife experienced the perfect results that came from using

CALUMET
THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 ounces. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 ounce cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

Today millions upon millions have realized the same satisfaction that goes with using a perfect baking powder.

Calumet has more friends than any of the other brands on the market today—women who after one trial found that for uniform, wholesome bakings it has no equal.

Don't forget that a few cents worth of unreliable baking powder can ruin several dollars worth of other ingredients used in baking. Use the best and know what the results will be.
